Editorial

Right ... isn't it about time the rain went away? Today there is a big bright thing in the sky but it's going to be covered by some fluffy grey stuff soon. We think that since next weekend is the start of daylight saving, it would be good to have some sunshine to 'save'.

The silly season is near ... which means it's going to be a busy ol' time of theatre for most of us. The next show in the Abbey is the C.A.T.S. production "Man of Steel", followed by "All Shook Up" (our Christmas production). Early next year we will be staging "Putting It Together", which will be followed by "Miss Saigon" in the Regent in August. So many shows ... so little time ... ??? So, without further ado ...

"PUTTING IT TOGETHER"

Coming soon to Abbey Musical Theatre

Director: Scott Andrew

World renowned theatrical composer Stephen Sondheim has devised this unique and inventive musical entertainment from his own work, which includes songs from every score he has ever written as well as some never heard before. His delight in devising unusual and entertaining crossword puzzles has here found an unexpected outlet in the way he has put together this extraordinary collection of brilliant songs into what has been described as the funniest show Sondheim never wrote ... but now he has.

On stage from 6 March 2009 to 4 April 2009.

A pre-audition evening will be held at the Abbey Theatre on 3 October 2008, starting at 7.00 p.m. Come along for more information about auditions and the show itself.
